Chronology of Archives Department (rev. March 2026)

Congregation of the Sisters of the Holy Cross, Notre Dame, Indiana

A Chronology is usually very cryptic and avoids being narrative. This chronology adds far more historical detail than usual because its purpose was to research the development of the Archives collection for incoming staff as part of their orientation. At the advice of Sister Jeanette Fetting, CSC, Director of Archives, Sister Catherine Osimo, CSC, read and studied the contents of the source material in the following five boxes: H 6.2 Archives, Documents from HCSS; H 6.3 Archives, Miscellaneous Reports; H 6.3a Procedure Manual for Record Management and Archives; H 6.5 Archives. Books on community history completed the research. Focus is on the Mother House and less so on Saint Mary's College though both intersect at times, especially in origins.

- 1790 In the aftermath of the 1789 French Revolution and the overthrow of the monarchy, the French establish the first national archives rather than obliterate every vestige of the hated ancient regime. "Records of the old society were preserved primarily, and perhaps unintentionally, for cultural uses. Records of the new were preserved for the protection of public rights. The recognition of the importance of records to society was one of the important gains of the French revolution." [Schellenberg, Modern Archives, quoted by Sister M. Joan of Arc's paper "Renewal of Archives," Feb. 23, 1969]
- February 11, 1799 Birth of Basil Anthony Mary Moreau, in Laigne-en-Belin, France.
- March 1, 1818 Birth of Leocadie-Romaine Gascoin in the parish of Montenay, Mayenne, France, the future Mother Mary of the Seven Dolors.
- August 31, 1835 Acceptance by Father Moreau of governance of the Brothers of Saint Joseph; four priests adopt name of Auxiliary Priests.
- August 4, 1841 Four Marianites of Holy Cross receive the habit in the monastery chapel of the Good Shepherd Sisters. (Sisters: Mary of the Cross, Mary of the Compassion, Mary of Calvary, Mary of the Seven Dolors). Thus 1841 is considered the founding date and the founder is Father Basil Anthony Moreau who establishes the community of sisters in Sainte-Croix, Le Mans, France.
- August 5, 1841 Seven Holy Cross men depart Le Mans to begin a mission in the United States in Indiana (Father Edward Sorin and six brothers).
- May 30, 1843 Departure of first sisters for Indiana accompanied by two priests, one brother, and one seminarian to join Father Edward Sorin and six Holy Cross brothers at Notre Dame du Lac. The group sails from France on June 3. After a very rough crossing they land in New York on July 11. After recuperating for 12 days, the shaken party leaves for the Midwest via the Great Lakes, traveling by horse-drawn barge and then finally by boat across Lake Erie. The weary travelers arrive in Detroit, Michigan, briefly rest then travel south, probably by ox cart, to arrive in Indiana approximately two months from when their journey first began. [Sister M. Georgia (Costin), Priceless Spirit]

July 16, 1844 First establishment of the sisters in Bertrand.

September 8, 1844 Habit given for the first time in the United States at Bertrand, Michigan.

1843-1849 The most complete records are the minutes of the local council at Notre Dame, Bertrand, and later at Saint Mary's where they gradually become the minutes of meetings of the general council. The minutes are kept in French from the beginning in 1843 until 1849 and in English thereafter. Equal to them are the minutes of the annual chapters of the sisters until the First World War and revised canon law limited them to every six years. [Sister M. Campion (Kuhn), Sept. 1983 paper "Archives of the Sisters of the Holy Cross, Saint Mary's, Notre Dame, Indiana"]

1855 Society of the Marianites, The General and Particular Rules mentions in Rule XXV "The Keeper of the Archives," with six articles describing responsibilities and instructions in handling "documents necessary for the administration." The Rule of 1855 was written by Father Moreau, the Founder, when we were one community with the priests and brothers. The Rule of 1855 specifies that the Chronicler must not fail to enter events as they occur.

August 15, 1855 Sisters move from Bertrand to Saint Mary's of the Immaculate Conception, a 185-acre property adjoining Notre Dame du Lac. There are 60 students and 30 sisters. The campus in Mishawaka is called the Manual Labor School; moves to St. Joseph's, Indiana known as Taylor's House "for half orphans and poor girls."

1856 Chapel of Loretto is the oldest building on Saint Mary's campus based on architectural plans brought by Father Neal Gillespie, CSC, brother of Sister M. Angela (Gillespie) from Rome modeled on the House of Loreto, 31' x 13'. It will be moved in 1886 to make room for the main church. "Greek Revival" style. [Called "House of Loreto" in Sister Maria Teresa (Heineman) list of buildings with 1859 date].

May 13, 1857 Approval of the Constitutions of the Institute of the Congregation of Holy Cross (Priests and Brothers).

Sisters are separated from Priests and Brothers.

June 17, 1857 Consecration of the Conventual Church of Notre Dame de Sainte-Croix, le Mans.

Summer 1857 July 3 Father Moreau prepares for his forthcoming visit to America and Canada. [Circular Letter 86] He arrives August 26 and gives a series of conferences at Notre Dame du lac to the entire congregation, Salvatorists (priests), Josephites (brothers), Marianites (sisters) August 27-29. Sails on September 19 from New York to France on the steamer Arago and describes surviving violent storm a few days later [CI 90].

1860-1862 Bertrand Hall built. Architect: Mr. Wm. Thomas of Chicago. First known as The Academy or Saint Mary's Academy which houses the entire school 1862-1904. Building is funded by monies the sisters made from caring for wounded Civil War soldiers. Will be known as Academic Hall then, in 1938, it becomes Bertrand Hall. "Classical Revival" style, William Thomas, Architect; Fathers Patrick Dillon and Edward Sorin, Builders. Bertrand Hall will serve many uses: until 1945 for pre-school and preparatory departments; in 1949 a House of Studies for young sisters; in 1961 a Postulate; in 1968 administrative offices of the Congregation and that of the General Administration; circa 1969 onward Bertrand Annex housed Holy Cross Services Corporation, Information Services, Communications, International and Congregational Justice offices, the Congregational Archives, and Heritage Room. In 2004 the Liturgy Office moved to Bertrand Hall, second floor.

"Notre Dame brick" is used for many of the buildings on campus, having been manufactured on the Notre Dame campus. Six years earlier the sisters had moved their school from Bertrand, Michigan to Saint Mary's. Father Sorin said a new building was necessary. A fifth floor was soon added than in the original plan. It was to be the best possible building with bathrooms and central steam heating. The cost was $24,000. [List of Sister Maria Teresa (Heineman) indicates cost of Bertrand Hall as $60,000 with no costs listed for several other buildings listed under Bertrand Hall.]

1863 Problems arise with France.

1864-1865 The Music Hall is built to supplement the original building in "Second Empire" style. It served as the Music Hall with a dormitory on the upper floor. Later becomes Bertrand Annex.

1866 Music Hall built in "Second Empire" style; Brothers of the Holy Cross, Architects and Builders.
Moreau resigns as superior general after episodes of dissension and intrigue within the Congregation.

1868 Our Lady of Peace Cemetery established.
Father Edward Sorin elected by General Chapter as Superior General. He transfers generalate to Paris, orders mother house in Le Mans to be sold to pay community's debts.

1869 Notre Dame de Sainte-Croix, the mother church, is sold.

July 26, 1869 The Sisters of the Holy Cross [Indiana Province] separates from Marianites in France and becomes an autonomous congregation. "After the separation in 1869, there seems to have been no attempt to keep a chronicle and Mother Angela even destroyed her correspondence and papers from the Civil War year. Ah, humility! Thus matters progressed-or regressed-until the provisional approval of the Constitutions in March 1889...." [Sister M. Campion {Kuhn}, 1992 Holy Cross History Conference paper.]

1871-1872 Lourdes Hall built in "Second Empire" style, Brothers of the Holy Cross, Architects and Builders.

January 20, 1873 Death of Reverend Basil Anthony Mary Moreau at Le Mans, France.

1883 Dairy [handwritten notation added to Heineman list-no explanation.]

August 18, 1883 Letter of His Holiness Pope Leo XIII published in the journal The Ave Maria, Notre Dame, Indiana September 22, 29, 1883 issues announces the opening of the Vatican Library [Archives] to combat errors concerning the Roman Catholic Church and to promote truth about its values and positive influence throughout history and culture. "...[May] the art of history, which is so noble, be no longer made the instrument of great harm both public and private...No effort should be spared to refute inventions and falsehoods; and the writers must always bear this rule in mind, that the first Jaw of history is, not to dare to utter falsehood; the second, not to fear to speak the truth; and, moreover, no room must be left for suspicion of partiality or prejudice." His Holiness also desires large scholarly works from which extracts or summaries can be used to write books for the study of history in schools.

[A photocopy of the papal letter re-printed in The Ave Marie was made by Mother Kathryn Marie, General Archivist, for her files in the Congregational Archives.]

Church of Our Lady of Loretto [Church of Loreto] completed after six years. Romanesque in style modeled on the Santa Maria Carignano in Genoa, Italy. Architect George Crigeant (Chicago). First Holy Mass November 12, 1887. Main altar consecrated August 29, 1888.

The Administration Building (Tower Building, Center Building) is constructed and provides office space for General Administration, a convent, and a novitiate. Mr. Martin Hoban is the mason. [Cost $25,000] Father Moreau had brought a tower bell from France which was installed. In 1954 Mother M. Rose Elizabeth changes name from Center Building to Tower Building. Not known when name was changed back to Center Building.

The first installation of gas on campus is in The Academy building [Bertrand Hall] in 1888-1889. The first payment of interest on the debt of this new building, of which Notre Dame assumed two-thirds, consisted of the salaries of the Civil War nurses.

Sisters of the Holy Cross and Sisters of Holy Cross become autonomous communities.

Old Power Plant built.

J March 1, 1889

The new Constitutions of the Sisters of the Holy Cross is provisionally approved.

"It was after 1889, therefore, that the archives collection really began at Saint Mary's." [Campion, Sept. 1983] The sisters return to the earlier rule about archives. The archivist for the Congregation is to summarize the chronicles of the various establishments which the local superior sends to the archivist every year. This rule follows almost exactly the direction of the 1855 rule. See Chapter of 1894 below.

July 25, 1889

Election of Mother M. Augusta, following the provisional approval of the new Constitution makes her the first Superior General in the United States.

1890

"At the close of the Holy Hour [in the big church from two to three o'clock] the Community assembled in Saint Angela Hall, now no longer standing, and each Sister received her Obedience for the coming year. There was great excitement and sometimes tear-stained eyes; however, each Sister accepted her Obedience as coming from God." ["Memoirs of Sister M. Angels (Everett)"]

1892-1893

Sister M. Emerentiana (Nowlan) is considered the first archivist. She found no formal record system had been developed since the beginning of the Congregation in 1843 according to Sister M. Alma Louise, Record Manager/Assistant Archivist in a March 1981 letter to Sister Maryanne O'Neill, General Secretary.

The following is from a photocopy of an undated handwritten account titled "Preface" from page 19 of an unnamed journal book or archive record. The signature of Sr. M. Emerentiana at the bottom does not match the handwriting of the three-paragraph account.

Preface

In the vacation of 1892, Sister M. Regis having charge of the Archives, I was appointed her assistant, but at the same time having class duties, not very much was accomplished except to get the Mission Accounts in order, and copied in the large book of Statistics.

In August 1893 the full obedience of Archivist and Accountant devolved upon me, and short sketches of the Mission Houses from their foundation were made. This was attended with much difficulty as no records had been kept, and I had to depend on the personal recollections of the different Sisters who had spent some time on the different missions.

Here was presented quite a difficulty. The memories of no two Sisters agreed on many points, especially on dates, hence I was often compelled to choose the statement that seemed most likely to be true, and no doubt the reader may find in some cases, the same Sister mentioned as being in two places at the same time! Very few official documents of the early days have been preserved.

Sister M. Emerentiana

Sister M. Alma Louise explains that Sister M. Emerentiana interviewed 60 surviving pioneer members (most of whom were in the Sisters' Infirmary) to relate their reminiscences from 1843 to 1893. The accounts were written in diary format recounting information concerning property, buildings, costs, personnel assignments and new establishments.

Sister M. Emerentiana is Archivist from 1893 to 1915.

1892-1893

Construction of the Novitiate to house novices and postulants who had been staying in the Administration Building (Tower Building). Serves as the Novitiate 1893-1969. After being opened to Saint Mary's College students, in 1941 it will be renamed Augusta Hall in honor of Mother Mary Augusta, the first Superior General of the Sisters of the Holy Cross. Built in "Classical Revival style", Brothers of Holy Cross, Architects and Builders.

["1893 New Novitiate Building $48,000" on Heineman list followed by mention of electricity installed and artesian wells dug. Also mention of Steamhouse and Oil House built and steam and water pipes laid throughout the buildings at a total cost of $37,000.)

Tunnel to building constructed. [Which building unclear on Heineman list]

1894 Chapter of 1894: "Mother General requested the Superiors and the Directresses of the Mission Houses to put in writing all concerning the establishment of the house over which they preside and have all important events noted in the Archives of each house." The task is difficult. Sometimes even the account records cannot be found; sometimes only memories existed. [Sister M. Campion (Kuhn) 1992 HCH Conference paper]

1895 Rules of the Sisters of the Holy Cross, published after the approval of the Constitutions and our congregation as separate, Rule V describes the duties of "The Councillors." "The chief secretary" is charged with "keeping the Annals of the Congregation, by summarizing the chronicles of the various establishments which the superiors and directresses should send to her every year." "The secretaries are usually the archivists." Detailed instructions are included beginning with "Each page should have at least one margin of one or two inches...The style should be simple, without choice phrases or display of wit. The reflections should be few "

The narrative in the Big Book stops about 1895. The Big Book was a summary of the chronicles of various establishments which the superiors were to send every year to the general level which was then "pasted, or copied" along with financial accounts and statistics into the proper ledger. The Big Book's greatest value is that it contains the story of those houses which had been opened and closed before 1895. [Sister M. Campion (Kuhn), 1992 HCH Conference paper.]

Thirty years after the Civil War in Mother Augusta's name is sent a simple questionnaire to all the sisters who had served in the Civil War. "Unfortunately, most of them were very humble women who had done their duty and had little to relate-or thought they did." [Campion 1992].

[The Old Indian Couple" in 1859 was employed to live at the gate to open it to all comers. The man died and his wife was taken to Notre Dame. The General Council decided to build a small brick house at the gate as a porters lodge to be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Foy with Paddy, already employed as gate keeper.]
- 1898-1899 Ice house built.
- September 1898 Sister M. Emerentiana, Archivist, accompanies sisters to Lexington, Kentucky, not to nurse the sick soldiers in the Spanish-American War, but to help the sisters. She begins to keep a diary of their lives. She takes ill and leaves in October but sisters keep the diary going with her prodding to write long letters to Saint Mary's. The original documents still exist but Sister Emerentiana gathered all of them together with pertinent correspondence, arranged everything in chronological order and copied the entire account into a large ledger book, interspersed with clippings pertaining to the war. [Campion 1992.]
- 1898-1911 The following construction progresses: Entrance Gate, Water Tower, Pump House, Horse Barn, Hay Shed, Wagon Shed, Granary, Carpenter Shop, College Garage, Slaughter House, Implement Shed, Corn Crib, Chicken House, Orchard House, Mt. Sister M. Emerentiana, Archivist (until 1915)
(Sister Inezetta might have become Archivist after Sister Emerentiana's death but there are no records of who held General Archivist position after 1915-not until 1927).
 [Campion, LS draft, 1996]
- Sister Emerentiana starts to compile a history of the Sisters of the Holy Cross beginning with the founding of the auxiliary priests and then the merging of the brothers to form the Association of Holy Cross. She pieces together an account without the chronicles, which had probably been sent to France. Her main source for the beginning is Mother Angela's alleged life of Father Cointet published in 1855. Sisters Compassion {Gleason) and Euphrosine (Pepin) and their reminiscences are sources for the Bertrand years. Excerpts from The Catholic Miscellany provide a description of the giving of the habit on February 23, 1846. She also uses Father Edward Sorin's Chronicles as well as excerpts from the 1895 A History of the University of Notre Dame du Lac, Indiana prepared for the golden jubilee.

[Draft for Life Signs article Feb./March 1996 also mentions other sources used by Sister M. Emerentiana such as: Council Minutes and General Chapters; Sorin's Chronicles; Chimes and The Notre Dame Scholastic.]

- 1901-1902 The Students' Infirmary is completed [cost: $34,000) and serves as an administration building and residence hall for the sisters, known as St. Joseph's Hall until 1949. The hall was built in either 1911 or 1914, sources conflict. Regardless, the building was multi-purpose and had many uses: 1911 called the "Brothers' House" since Holy Cross Brothers lived on the upper floor with the lower floor a recreation room for men; 1938-1939 quarters for Notre Dame students who worked on campus; 1944 home of Kobychi family on second floor; 1954 office space for Butler Construction Company as new Convent was being built; 1954-1968 where two different women roomed on second floor (Cecilia Powaski and Cecilia Przesaski); 1957-1959 the Carpenter Shop; 1970-1975 House of Prayer and also called St. John's; 1993-2003 becomes St. Joseph's Convent; 2005 a Hospitality House for group meetings, etc. In 2007 building is demolished because it did not meet the safety codes for residency.

- September 2, 1940 Mother M. Vincentia, Superior General, in a letter to Mother M. Rose Elizabeth, Eastern Provincial, wrote that the Eastern archives and others were not being written well. "They are simply inane and no credit to the sister who wrote them nor to the superior who approved them...There are many of them that will be no help to a future generation by way of a history of our times. In your visit, Mother, call attention to the superiors to the matter and insist on their making the archives more readable."

Mother urges each and all to endeavor to add interest and freshness to the facts which go to make up the archives of each house. An exhibit of possible methods of preserving the archives was made available to the members of the Chapter."
- ????? When Sister M. Inezetta (McNaughton) became Archivist is unknown except she came after Sister M. Gertrudis (Andrews) at some point. Through the kind consideration of Mother General new fire-proof equipment has been purchased and quarters enlarged for the same so that space for the records will not be wanting." Under separate cover she sent a box of paper (100 sheets) to be used exclusively for typewritten copies of the archives which were to be forwarded to the Mother House. She mentions a tax levied on all the houses the year before for expenses incurred for storage of all records, including 1941, along with Centennial data. She assures the sisters that this will be the last time the tax will be necessary, but regardless, $2.75 is due Saint Mary's.

Midwest Province Council Minutes: "The most important criticism was that the archives are too cut and dried reading, that they should be colorful and detailed enough to make them interesting reading and a true history of that part of the community,--not just dates and flat facts."

August 6-7, 1944

One page of "Suggestions for Archives" compiled from Annual Provincial Chapters published for Institute for Superiors at Saint Mary's Convent, Notre Dame, Indiana. The letter and spirit of Rule XI, Part 11 referenced while suggesting including "details which give color and atmosphere in the narrative." "Stories of humor or an edifying nature indicative of the spirit of Holy Cross" should be told briefly in the account kept in the local house. "The archive account should be written from the viewpoint of its help to the one who may be called upon to write the history of individual houses some fifty years hence. Add such details that are necessary to complete an interesting, factual, complete story."

Mother M. Rose Elizabeth (Havican), Superior General
Sister M. Basil Anthony (O'Flynn), General Secretary
Sister M. Joan of Arc (Spates), Records and Archives (1952)

	Sister M. Campion (Kuhn) asserts that Sister M. Gerald (Hartney) recommended Sister Joan of Arc's appointment to Mother Rose Elizabeth [Memo May 1, 1992.]
1950-1951	Campus School groundbreaking on April 27, 1954 and dedication on September 16, 1951.
July 10, 1951	Mother M. Rose Elizabeth, Superior General, in a circular letter notes that, despite the distribution of a list of regulations for the writing of archives "some years ago," that with the passage of time "some carelessness in the observance of these regulations has developed and certain irregularities have crept in." Superiors should "endeavor to assign the duty of archivist to Sisters who possess a historical sense either by nature or by acquisition." She reiterates Rule XI, Part II and summarizes, "In other words the archives should be composed in a dignified, clear, concise fashion. Frivolity is entirely out of place." She urges the sisters not to underestimate the importance of the archives as community records. "The archives reflect, or should reflect, the life of the community in any given period. They are the primary source material "for future members of the community who wish to know community life as lived in our time." A copy of "Suggestions for Archives" accompanies the letter.
July 22, 1951	The setting (wall and landscaping) of the shrine of Our Lady of Fatima on Lake Marian at Saint Mary's College is completed, the shrine having been blessed on July 7. Mother M. Rose Elizabeth (Havican) made possible the purchase of the statue whose personal gift it was. She visits the shrine and explains that it had been erected for the intentions of the community, living and dead. It was chosen as an offering of thanksgiving for the progress of Father Moreau's Cause on the occasion of her visit to Fatima with Sister M. Verda Clare following their session as witnesses to the Cause at Le Mans in 1949. [Sister M. Bernice (Hollenhorst) notes)
1952-1954	Saint Mary's Convent built by Ray Gavger, Architect and Walter Butler, Builder. "Modern" style. Serves as home for sisters needing skilled nursing. Walter Butler Construction, Saint Paul, Minnesota.
June 1952	Sister M. Joan of Arc (Spates) after returning from Bengal for surgery and having recuperated is asked by Mother Rose Elizabeth to accept the archives assignment. In 1982 Sister Joan of Arc describes to Sister Campion what she found 30 years earlier, "...the office was a rather small affair with two file cabinets and an oil-based, hand-cranked mimeo. The desk was piled with unfinished business and unopened mail. There were in addition several storage cupboards throughout Lourdes Hall-third floor-with archives storage. There were packages and packages wrapped in newspaper. Before accepting the assignment I stated a condition: I would need a large room and a big table and everything in the office and cupboards moved to that location."

Scholastics and novices move the archive material, simply stacking it on the floor, of what later becomes the Lourdes Hall dining room. Sister Joan of Arc puts order into random documents and eventually starts to create personnel files of the living and deceased sisters, and the separated sisters; unrolls bundles of wills, vow formulas, and forms such as "Queries." She requisitions file folders, labels, and two fire-proof safes. She teaches at the Campus School mornings and works in Archives in the afternoon-for a year-until she is assigned as sacristan of the Church of Loretto when the sacristan dies suddenly. While sacristan she cleans out the basement and attic of the Church of Loretto which is over 60 years old and is to be rebuilt. In addition, she begins to plot the cemetery.

In 1952 construction on the Convent is underway. After the May 1954 dedication of the Convent, the archives are moved to this new "fireproof" building. The work area and general storage are in the Convent basement on the east side. Personnel files and printing items are moved to the first floor of the Convent next to the north elevator. An electric mimeograph is procured.

"About 1953, the archivist began to record on 16 millimeter microfilm some of the records such as assignment lists and personal records of the sisters, their initial questionnaires, baptismal and death certificates, etc. She also began to film the earlier years of the narratives and in most cases destroyed the originals. Some other narratives were prepared for filming by tearing the ledger pages from their binding and removing the clippings and programs originally affixed to those pages. In many cases these programs and clippings were destroyed. This condition is especially noticeable in some of the volumes from Saint Mary's Convent." [Campion, "The Archives at St. Mary's," Holy Cross History newsletter of the Holy Cross History Association, undated]

1955	The cause for beatification of Father Basil Moreau introduced in Rome.

January 18, 1964	Flood in Archives: The Archives of Saint Mary's Convent and that of Sister M. Joan of Arc refer to the "disaster" and the "catastrophe." A 12" water main breaks in the area between the church and front entrance of the Convent. The water floods the window wells and the force breaks the windows flooding the clean linen room. The water has such force that the windows break and flood the clean linen room. The wall between the room and the hall also breaks down and water rushes down the hall into all the rooms, including the Archives. Sister Joan of Arc is called from the church to come to Archives at once. She has to crawl through the window from the

Following the General Chapter of 1967, the General Administration finds Archives lacking organization of material which greatly hinders implementing the evaluation of our religious life following the Second Vatican Council.

General Administration moves from what had been the old student infirmary to a renovated Bertrand Hall. The "infirmary" had served as the Generalate and living quarters of the Council since Mother M. Rose Elizabeth's administration in the 1950s. It is decided that since Bertrand Hall has thick walls in its basement, it is unlikely to flood, so the Archives are moved to Bertrand Hall "where it remains today." Prior to 1959 Archives were located in Augusta-first on the 2nd floor and then on the 3rd floor-then moved to basement of Saint Mary's Convent. [Sister M. Campion's account of May 1, 1992 to General Council via Sister Mary Marjorie Packer, Coordinator of General Council Information Resources during a period of assessment.]

The move is Sister M. Joan of Arc's third location for archives. She loses the print shop which becomes a separate operation. Archives consisted of two large rooms, each 25'x45'. The east room [Room 101] becomes the Archives proper. The west room [Room 100] becomes the home of artifacts which Sister M. Rafaelia and others had collected on the top floor of the old novitiate. [Campion, 1992]

Dedication of Carroll Hall (auditorium) in honor of benefactor Alice Carroll ["Aunt Alice, Special Benefactor"] who never knew the Sisters of the Holy Cross; never saw Saint Mary's, and never met Sister M. Madeleva but whose writings inspired the major donation. The surrounding college classroom building, east of the library, is named Madeleva Hall.

Dedication of Havican Hall, west of library, as college residence hall named in memory of Mother Rose Elizabeth and her family as benefactors. [?]

February 10, 1969

Memorandum signed by Mother M. Loretto, Eastern Provincial Superior, documents materials examined by Sister M. Joan of Arc, General Archivist, and then transferred from the Eastern provincial house to the archival deposit at Saint Mary's. There follows a long list of the records of houses and schools closed, provincial circular letters, and various papers and artifacts. Someone has penciled later the notation, "how awful" or "awful" in the right-hand margin alongside a penciled underlining in reference to destruction of "minutes of class and faculty meetings which would not having any historic value" and the destruction of "appraisal books" of hospitals and community-owned properties.

February 16, 1969

Handwritten notations on an index card in a file marked "Directives for Writing Archives" states the following:
--individual rainbow sheets completed by superior prior to and in connection with 15th General Chapter 1st session, 1967, were burned;
--individual outline of these sheets were microfilmed;
--individual outline containing suggestions relating to Capitular Decrees, 15th General Chapter, 1st session, were burned prior to 2nd session.

1969

Personnel with experience in the Congregation are appointed to evaluate the Archives.

Sister M. Joan of Arc leaves Archives, after almost 17 years, to organize the expansion of the business office which evolves into Campus Management Services.

There is no Canon Law governing the maintenance, organization, preservation or use of Archives for religious.

Job descriptions developed for archive positions but some objection to whether or not separate job descriptions can be written. There is generally an expectation that one be able to work under nominal supervision, be able to make independent judgments and decisions at times. A job description for Archivist and complementary personnel solidified 9-27-69.

General Secretary; Sister Dolora Marie

Appointed September 1969--

Archives Administrator/Archivist: Mother Kathryn Marie (Gibbons)

Appointed April 1969--

Assistant Archivist/Record Manager: Sister M. Alma Louise (Fitch)

Mother Kathryn Marie has a good sense of community history, has a great sense of order, "but her immediate goals seemed to be an uncluttered desk." She translates the first six years of the general council minutes from the French. [Campion 1992.]

North end of the re-named Augusta Hall (former Novitiate) becomes residence for juniors and seniors of Saint Mary's College. The south end in 1970 will be a convent for college sisters.

1970 Lillie O'Grady Center added on to Saint Mary's Convent; "Modern" style.

1972 Renovation of Lourdes Hall for additional offices and residences for College personnel.

1973-1979
Sister Kathleen Anne Nelligan, Superior General
Sister M. Rose Anne (Schultz), General Secretary

November 1973 Sister M. Alma Louise (Fitch), Assistant Archivist, to Sister M. Rose Anne (Schultz), General Secretary and Division Director, asks in a Status Report to "do something" with regard to communications to Archives Department. The feeling is that too much travels "via the grapevine" without "positive criteria from administration" [at the general level]. Sister Alma Louise also indicates that there has been an excessive amount of duplication "rather than simplification existent in the past. There is enough work to do without making more." The Assistant Archivist summarizes that in the 1960's and 1970's "things got organized more systematically" but in one form or another similar attempts were made to organize" but were neglected and/or discontinued at intervals leaving gaps and making tasks very difficult in reconstruction."

Extraordinary Chapter for Regional Restructuring

1976-1977

Saint Mary's builds a new athletic facility, Angela Athletic Facility, west of Havican Hall.

1976

Mother Kathryn Marie (Gibbons) is still listed as General Archivist and reports to Sister M. Rose Anne (Schultz), General Secretary who acts a liaison with general level. Sister M. Alma Louise (Fitch) is listed as still in charge of record management. Most of the correspondence seems to be from Sister Alma Louise.

Sister M. Champion (Kuhn) receives a $50,000 grant from the National Archives and Records Administration to microfilm the first hundred years of records of the Sisters of the Holy Cross, excluding all health-related activities except war-time nursing and to prepare a printed guide for 52 rolls of film.

Prior to the 1976 celebration of the United States Bicentennial, concerns were expressed by the membership that there is a need to continue the work of recording and preserving community history. The Western Regional Chapter of 1975 recommends the formation of a heritage committee, out of which the Oral History Project is undertaken in the western United States. Interview of 21 sisters in the west are conducted by the Western Region Moreau Heritage Team are conducted, transcribed, and collected 1979-1981.

Subsequently other oral histories of the sisters are gathered 1983-1985 (104 sisters) under the leadership-of Sister M. Julien at Saint Mary's. The Charles Redd Center for Western Studies received permission to interview 20 former students of Holy Cross School of Nursing. Jessie Embry used the source material for a presentation to the 2006 Holy Cross History Conference. In Spring 2008 the US History class of Abby Van Vierah, Saint Mary's College, interviews 23 sisters. James Harden, working on a doctoral dissertation, interviewed 4 sisters in 2014-2015 on the Congregation's response to what was happening in hospitals and in the order during the late 1980's onward. An index of the oral histories are available with the recordings in the Congregational Archives.

New Policy Manual compiled based on 1969 edition.

Miss Mary Rita Hellmuth joins the staff of the Archives Department as Assistant in Department of Archives and will do "other work as designated by the General Secretary."

Sister M. Alma Louise writes of "a deluge of materials covering a period of thirty years descended upon the Department of Archives" which she said one did not want to repeat. Sister came with a background as a medical records administrator. She was an active member of Indiana Archivists, Midwest Archives Conference, and Society of American Archivists.

During Sister Alma Louise's time as Records Manager/Archivist she continues to expand the work begun by Sister Joan of Arc putting together an index card file for every living sister; begins a file for every deceased sister, including a sheet which includes the nature and place of her apostolic service; creates a file of sisters arranged according to the year of their birth. The file proves to be a boon when the Congregation buys into Social Security. She begins the cemetery book where every sister is listed in alphabetical order with the year of death and the location of her grave. She also continues the other version arranged according to plots in the cemetery, plus a list of places away from Saint Mary's where any sister is buried. Sister Alma Louise begins a list of establishments of the Congregation in alphabetical order according to state and then diocese within that state. Her lists also include a chronological list of former members, a complement to the card file begun by Sister Joan of Arc. She compiles lists of sources of vocations by state and country, a roster of family names of everyone who has ever been a member of the Congregation, finding some familial unknown familial connections. Her congregational census for each year since 1843 encompasses 13 large loose-leaf binders. And she begins to organize census data by age groups starting with 1843. [Campion, 1992]

December 20, 1978

An Ad Hoc Resource Committee has its third meeting. Minutes indicate that Sister Alma Mary is taking initial steps to revamp the community history room. Sisters M. Ann Josephine and Monica report on the ongoing reflection on the congregation's history in "response to regional requests for development of an organized approach for capturing 'folklore' of community." Methods for interviewing and questions to facilitate interviews are discussed. Pilot groups of sisters to be interviewed will be the "Bertrand Hall community and Queen of Peace communities." Sister M. Alma Louise reports on the need to better develop the Record Management Program and Sister M.

Campion joins her in a similar desire to reassess Archives, especially having a good Index of Archives, a schedule of items to be retained, and a better system for labeling items.

May 3, 1979

General Council Minutes mentions renovation of the parlor on the first floor of Bertrand Hall for use as an historical museum. The cost estimate is $8,500 with the expectation that donated funds will be used on the work to begin soon.

1979 General Chapter

Constitution and Statutes adopted by General Chapter makes two references to archives. A local superior "has the responsibility annually for approving...the archives narrative and financial report for the community." (#25.1) The general secretary "Under the authority of the superior general...preserves...the archives of the Congregation, including the annual archives narratives from all local communities." (#46.1). The Constitution was published in 1982.

September 12, 1979

Sister M. Rose Anne (Schultz), outgoing General Secretary, tells Sister Maryann O'Neill, incoming General Secretary that the work of an ad hoc committee to work with the development of community history and related topics has only just begun after a year. Sister Rose Anne coordinated the committee. Sister Campion arriving full-time in Archives will make it easier to proceed with some areas that have been projected.

[Attached is an agenda dated November 8, 1978 of the Ad Hoc Committee on Archives, Congregation History. Members are: Sisters M. Ann Josephine, M. Alma Louise, Alma Mary, Campion, Monica, and Rose Anne. "Sister M. Monica is presently engaged in translating some of the letters of Mother Seven Dolores," related to sisters at Saint Mary's. Future projects include an Oral History Project (Sisters Ann Josephine, Monica, Campion) and a Community History Room (Sister Alma Mary).]

The Community History Ad Hoc Committee's vision is ambitious. In hindsight they initiated or catalyzed action in the renewal of archives and an historical consciousness in the post-Vatican Council II years.

Fall 1979

Sister M. Campion (Kuhn) appointed General Archivist when poor health necessitates Mother Kathryn Marie's retirement from the office in Fall 1978. Sister Campion begins her duties after the work of the Constitution Committee has ended. Sister had been a member of the Constitution Committee.

1979-1984

Sister Olivia Marie (Hutcheson), Superior General
Sister Maryanne O'Neill, General Secretary
Sister M. Campion (Kuhn), General Archivist

January 18, 1980

Memo to Sister Maryanne O'Neill, General Secretary, from Sisters M. Alma Louise and Campion regarding plans for the Department of Record Management and Archives 1980-1981 budget. They make several recommendations based on their objective, "effective utilization of space": a. discard use of safes in favor of a vertical type filing equipment; b. use a small room (Room 3-difficult to identify which room since number designation has changed] as a conference room, for teaching, and a reference library; c. use Room 6 [?] for supplies, storage, and materials with retention periods; d. purchase an IBM electric typewriter; e. purchase a new microfilm reader printer; f. purchase space saver type shelving.

April 25, 1980

Price quotation: $13,750. In addition one Minolta Reader/Printer which includes dual lens capability, roll film carriage, microfiche carriage will cost $3,385.

September 15, 1980

Sister M. Campion, General Archivist, in letter to sisters on individual assignment reminds them they are to "write an annual report of [your] ministry." There is no one form of narration, she says, that would be suitable for everyone.

1981

General Secretary: Sister Maryanne O'Neill
Record Manager: Sister M. Alma Louise (Fitch)
Archivist: Sister M. Campion (Kuhn)

Heritage Room created and opens in Bertrand Hall on main floor above basement or ground floor.

Associates move into Room 100 briefly, then the health claims office for Holy Cross Shared Services (later moving to larger quarters in Bertrand Annex, formerly known as the music hall).

Archives moves 20 file cabinets of academic records into Room 100 of Bertrand Hall, across from the main office of Archives (Room 101).

Completion of construction of Andre House by Casteel Construction Company, Architects Cole and Associates. The residence is originally built for college sisters but sisters in various ministries have lived there. In December 1982 is divided into two separate local communities, Andre East and Andre West.

March 9, 1981

Report to Sister Maryanne O'Neill, General Secretary, from Archives Office: "Historically, the relationship of archivist to records manager has depended very much upon the personalities and gifts of the sisters holding the two positions. While each has a particular area of competence, overall responsibility is jointly held. This arrangement should continue so that in case of necessity either sister can respond to requests for immediate service."

April 4, 1981

On the occasion of the first centenary of the opening of the Vatican Secret Archives, Pope John Paul II attends the inauguration of a documentary exhibit at the Vatican Secret Archives. The pope declares, "There is no doubt, therefore, that also the Archives can be called sapientiae temp/a ("temples of wisdom"¹¹), due precisely to that wealth of information and knowledge which they contain, and the preservation, the worthy and adequate presentation of these documents, from the most humble to the most precious, becomes a service rendered to Truth." [L'Osservatore Romano, 27 April 1981, "Archives work is an act of love for truth," photocopy in Archives furnished to Sister M. Campion April 21, 1986 by Robert J. Hohl, Cushwa-Leighton Library, Saint Mary's College, based on the research of Sister M. Bernice Hollenhorst, Librarian.]

Heritage Room blessed as the "Community History Room."

May 23, 1982

Beatification of Brother Andre (Alfred Bessette) as "Blessed."

September 15, 1982 Canonical approval of post-Vatican II Constitution and Statutes.

October 20, 1981 Sister Maryanne O'Neill, General Secretary, in letter to hospitals sponsored by the Congregation, clarifies that the annual report of each hospital becomes part of the Congregation archives. Hospital convents are urged to attempt to make their local community archives reflect the combination of work, prayer and celebration. The convent archives are also to include sisters who do not minister primarily in the hospital but live in the convent.

March 18-20, 1982 First annual Holy Cross History Conference gathers at Moreau Seminary, Notre Dame, Indiana. Sister M. Alma Louise {Fitch} serves on organizing committee of the association. Presenters include Sisters: M. Campion (Kuhn), Maria Assunta (Werner}, Miriam Ann (Cunningham). The conference convenes annually thereafter.

March 11, 1983 Havican Insurance Company, Englewood, Colorado memorandum to Sister M. Campion, Archivist, on the subject of fire protection for historical records, documents and Heritage items makes pertinent recommendations based upon their study of "the basement Archives, Microfilm areas and the Heritage Room."

A) The Archives Room should be protected by a Halon system with a preactivation device on the sprinkler system. B) Underwriters Laboratory listed fire resistive storage filing cabinets should be used for records that cannot be replaced. C) A fire resistive refrigerator should be purchased for the storage and preservation of microfilm records. D) The glass tops and display cases in the Heritage Room should be re-designed and sealed to protect from water damage should sprinkler leakage occur. E) Future consideration of obtaining powered fire resistive filing cabinets for the microfilm area "as a means of possibly preventing back injuries and improving the efficiency of the department." F) Also consider a Carbon Dioxide fire protection system and Halon systems for the Heritage Room but the dimensions of the room may prohibit insulation of such systems. John S. Ramirez from Havican concludes, "In spite of the initially substantial cost for protection, I fear that restoration after disaster (if this is even possible) would cost substantially more."

April 7, 1983 Johnson Controls, Inc. of South Bend, Indiana submits a proposal itemizing costs for fire alarm and Halon systems for "Bertrand Hall" (Heritage Room, Archives Room 2, Microfilm Room 3) totaling; $41,487. A handwritten "NO" appears by the Halon discharge test for all three rooms at the cost of $15,380. The Halon system set up for the Heritage Room is $10,843 and that for Archives Room 2 (probably Room 101 Bertrand) is listed as $10, 534. [Only sure that Halon system was ordered for Room 101 depository, then disconnected years later due to federal regulations].

Sister Judith Marie Hallock, General Secretary
Sister M. Campion (Kuhn), General Archivist

July 1984

Sister Judith Marie (Hallock), General Councilor, raises issue of needing more detailed Generalate archives because many events, etc. have not been included.

1985?

Halon gas system for fire suppression installed in Archive depository. [Requisition for Capital Item form to Campus Management Services for Budget Year 1986-1987 requests Halon protection for Room 100 estimating cost at $11,000. Handwritten notation indicates "This item was never approved." Requested by Sister M. Campion. Not certain as to when Halon system was installed in Room 100 but system was eventually removed years later due to new regulations from the Federal government according to Rich Reth, Director of Facilities Services 2015.]

August 9, 1985

Memo from Sister M. Campion to Sister Judith Hallock reports that the budget submitted by Sister Julien for the Oral History Project "this year" is $2,221 to be added to the revised Archives budget.

March 27, 1986

Memo to Budget Committee from Sister M. Campion, Archivist, mentions remodeling needed in Room 100 Bertrand "necessitated by loss of rooms 105 and 102." Room 100 is described as "the new storage room." In addition to the 6 bays of shelving, 6 shelves per bay, removed from Room 105 Bertrand, Sister Campion estimates she needs 12 more bays.

"There will have to be two tanks of Halon, one for the store room and one for the main office [includes Archives proper]." She explains that Shared Services stores its back-up microfilm in Archive's Halon-protected store room. Finally, "Archives, Room 101, will probably have to be painted once the file cabinets are moved out. At the same time I would like narrow, horizontal Venetian blinds in place of the old drapes that are presently there." She has delayed purchasing both a typewriter and desk, already approved, because there has been no room for them.

September 16, 1986

Memo from Sister M. Campion, Archivist, to Saint Mary's College archivist (unnamed) on the Origins of Archives Narrative for the College-and all other sponsored institutions:

"In years past, when many sisters were involved with the College and there were no provinces, any material of interest to any part of Saint Mary's was kept by the congregational archivist. Her narrative-or chronicle-included activities at the Academy and then at the College....

"When the Congregation was divided into provinces, and the College became part of the Midwestern Province, the sisters who taught in the College had their own superior, and supposedly that convent kept its own archives. Unfortunately, that was a low period in the keeping of the narrative and the account was either not done at all or poorly done. In any case, College and convent accounts were all one-this was also the case when other colleges were founded.

"In one of the chapters subsequent to that of 1967-probably that of 1968-it was decided that the institutions and convents should be separate entities. Colleges and hospitals were to have separate convents for the sisters who worked in them, and the archives narrative was to be separate."

Sister Campion also addresses the suggestion made that institutions do not necessarily need a narrative. Saving every scrap of paper would be sufficient, runs the argument. Sister Campion counters that without a narrative "reasons and consequences are never recorded. Some people might say that the reasons given by a chronicler can be colored-or tend to be-but my answer is that the future historian can check, if he wants, but I have found that people usually want to learn why something was done, not just that it was done."

July 1987

Sister M. Campion (Kuhn), Archivist, expresses fear about more and more sisters are on individual assignments. Writes regional superiors to encourage sisters "to write some account of their work, something which will explain the nature and scope and character of their work." She addresses "a rumor afloat that I disapprove of the use of word processors-that is not so." The issue was good quality bond paper should be used for the narrative. She clarifies that archives means more than the narrative. "Archives are everything: minutes of meetings, publications, programs, letters, etc., in other words, all relevant materials for the historical account of the local community and the apostolic ministry of the sisters who live there." The chronicle is only part of the whole story. Sister Campion admits that she herself did not like writing the local archives.

May 31, 1989

Capital expenditure approved by Sister Judith Hallock, General Councilor, for Archives purchase of commercial steel shelving for storeroom (Room 103 Bertrand), 8 bays -- 36"W x 12"D x 72"H each. Estimated total cost: $2,080. "Needed for store room to get stuff off floor."

1989-1994

Sister Thomas More (O'Brien), President
Sister Ann Donnelly, General Secretary
Sister M. Campion (Kuhn), General Archivist (until May 1993)

1990-1993

Remodel and renovation of Church of Our Lady of Loretto in line with contemporary liturgical norms and to promote greater accessibility and fuller participation for the older sisters and those with physical disabilities. Evans Woollen Associates, Indianapolis, architects.

March 29, 1990

Plans for moving the Heritage Room from 2nd floor Bertrand Hall to 5th floor Bertrand Hall underway and mention of which table and other items to be moved. [Letter from Sister M. Campion to Sister M. Agnes Anne]

) April 2, 1990

Sister M. Campion (Kuhn), General Archivist, writes Sister Patricia Mulvaney, Councilor for Retirement, during Sister Thomas More's presidency, indicating a need to improve the Heritage Room since its establishment 10 years before.

A little later Sister Campion receives a letter from Sister Ann Donnelly, General Secretary, questioning how the original estimate to refurbish the Heritage Room went from $10,000 to $34,000. The General Council insists that the expenses be limited to $10,000. [By September 12, 1990 Sister Ann Donnelly, General Secretary, sends memorandum to Sister M. Agnes Anne, Campus Management Services, authorizing a budget of $20,000-$25,000 for the renovation of the Heritage Room. The 5th floor of Bertrand Hall allows for future expansion which the 2nd floor of Bertrand Hall did not. The intent is to complete the renovation by the Sesquicentennial year, 1991. Throughout 1990 the General Archivist oversees the relocation and rededication of the Heritage Room. The rededication ceremony will be part of the opening of the Sesquicentennial at Saint Mary's.]

December 11, 1990

Sister M. Campion (Kuhn), General Archivist in letter to Sister Ann Donnelly, General Secretary regarding sisters who have expressed an interest in archives: "The problem is that any sister who is interested seems to think it is work for an older person. So much would be easier for a younger Sister. She would have the stamina and be able to see material on lower shelves and in bottom file drawers better than those of us who are seventy. Furthermore a younger Sisters will have longer years to work at the job-WHICH NEEDS CONTINUITY VERY MUCH. I was fifty-seven when I came and I have enjoyed every bit of it. In a sense, very real, I do minister to the entire Congregation."

In an attachment to Sister M. Campion's letter, Sister M. Georgia (Costin) writes of her progress on the book she is writing on the early history of the Congregation. She is not interested in any other position in Archives other than that of historian so she can more conveniently do her research. In the search to find someone to replace Sister Campion there needs to be sufficient time to "break in the next archivist. I am not convinced that the importance of this office, which guards the community's entire heritage, is appreciated either by the superiors or by the congregation at large. Someone under sixty needs to be brought on board very soon."

Planning for the 1991 Sesquicentennial of the Congregation of the Sisters of the Holy Cross has been underway since 1986. By the time of the observance of the anniversary several historical volumes have been researched by several sister-authors and published:

Fruits of the Tree, Vol. I, a collection of four papers (1988)
Fruits of the Tree, Vol. II, a collection of seven papers (1989)
Fruits of the Tree, Vol. III, Leadership, chapters covering general administrations from 1925 to 1984 and beyond {1991)

On the Way: Sesquicentennial 1841-1991, an engagement calendar book with photos and key dates noted in the history of the Congregation

The staff is involved in a prodigious amount of other Sesquicentennial preparations which include: writing articles for diocesan newspapers where Sisters of the Holy Cross serve; writing articles for Today's Catholic; writing a three-part series for The Courier; preparing and presenting slide shows for employees; planning and directing two bus tours to Bertrand and Silver Creek; collecting and preparing an art exhibit of sister artists at Saint Mary's College; and numerous other festivities, consultations, and archive and history conferences.

February 5, 1991

In a letter from Sister M. Campion (Kuhn), General Archivist, to Sister Felicitas Powers, Diocese of Savannah, Georgia, whose services or a referral were being sought for an audit of the CSC Archives, Sister Campion documents the physical dimensions of the depository at the time:

--438 linear ft. in Hollinger boxes

--10 four-drawer files on deceased and living members

--22 four-drawer files of student records

--100 linear feet of books.

April 5, 1991

Sister Ann Donnelly, General Secretary, sends a memorandum to Sisters Mary Ellen Vaughan and Joan Mader inviting them to join her in forming "a sub-committee of the General Council to monitor the evaluation of the General Archives operation." Among the desired outcomes of the evaluation are: "to know what we need to do to begin to bring General Archives up to state-of-the-art; to know how to formulate a position description for the person who could direct that process as well as help to integrate current and future Archival material into the evolving information system at Saint Mary's." Sister M. Campion has been involved in the preparation for the project.

Proposal [probably from Sister M. Campion] that all financial, legal and business affairs be combined into a separate archives and indexed on a computer and that Holy Cross Shared Services undertake the project. "Neither Sister Alma Louise nor I am trained or knowledgeable in financial and business matters Financial, business and legal affairs have assumed a much greater place in our Congregational life than they once did."

[October 29, 1992 copy of the Archives Study: Action Sequence lists 14 action items of which #7 Financial Records is: "Have Jackie Norris and the accounting department cull financial records, especially those dealing with Holy Cross Shared Services, Havican, and old Congregational records so the appropriate financial records can be preserved in archives.")

October 1991

AS/400 Program (Sisters Data Bank) initiated.

November 1991

Sister Mary Marjorie Paeker appointed Coordinator of General Council Information Resources [Holy Cross Shared Services] tasked to coordinate the information system needs of the General Council.

March 17, 1992

Memorandum from David Burk, Holy Cross Shared Services, to Sister Ann Donnelly, General Secretary regarding project to determine role of archives and recommend appropriate organizational and management structure for archives lists issues:

What a CSC Archives should be.

What should be/not be in the CSC Archives.

Where archives fits into the overall Congregation organization.

What level of archives management technology is appropriate.

What a CSC archivist should be (job description/pay range).

Mr. Burk judges that the project can be completed in five months (by August 1992) producing a report which includes an executive summary plus an analysis of research findings and recommendations on the five points above. An Action Plan accompanies the memorandum.

April 1992

The General Council commissions a study project to determine the role of Archives and recommend appropriate organizational management structure for Archives.

May 1, 1992

Issues raised by Sister M. Campion (Kuhn), General Archivist, on the history of Archives Department in context of assessment coordinated by Sister Mary Marjorie Packer on the information needs of the General Council:

Additional file space: Unclear as to how much space was requested but seems that she met some resistance and she doesn't understand why "all these concerns." She links need for more space with "the intent of the project [assessment of information system needs of the General Council] was to come up with what was the best way for the Congregation to maintain its historical records for the future." She notes that the National Archives has over 500 miles of files and her request is nothing in comparison.

Maintenance of records: paper or technology? The Archives staff (Sisters Campion, Alma Louise, Georgia) fear everything in archives will be computerized or microfilmed and paper eliminated and original documents. Sister Campion asks, "What good is a disc if it can't be read?" [because the technology keeps changing and equipment becomes outdated]. Sister Campion asserts that Sister Joan of Arc, former Archivist, is "satisfied" with the current "excellent" operations and sees no need for changing the present technology.

Criteria for what is of enduring value: Sister Campion asks "What do we need to keep, what are the canonical requirements? What do we want to keep?"

Centralization of records: "Archives should have access to Sisters Data Bank." It seems that General Administration or other departments may have had easier access.

May 14, 1992

In a memo to Diana Hullinger, Vice President of Operations, Holy Cross Shared Services, from Sister M. Campion regarding the evaluation of General Archives, the holdings of the Sisters of the Holy Cross General Archives in linear feet are stated as:

Room 100-269 feet, plus books in storage; 6 feet of notebooks of special studies, including a yearly census by name of every sister since 1843

Room 101-687 linear feet

Room 102-27 feet of faculty records; 80 feet of microfilm for Holy Cross Shared Services; 31 feet of congregational material

Total-1100 linear feet

June-September 1992

Diana L. Hullinger, Vice President of Operations, Holy Cross Shared Services, contacts a range of professional archivists seeking their help on the Archives Project. Receives position descriptions and other practical guidance from: St. Joseph County Dept. of Records Management and Archives; Indiana University South Bend Library; University of Notre Dame Archives; Adrian Dominican Sisters; Sisters of Providence, Saint Mary-of-the-Woods Archives and others.

June 26, 1992

Diana L. Hullinger, Vice-President of Operations, Holy Cross Shared Services sends out a 10-question survey on CSC Archives-The Future, a project that is intended to determine the appropriate future direction, both organizational and management structure, of the Archives Department. Working with her is a Steering Committee composed of: Sister Ann Donnelly, Chair and Sisters Beverly Ann Nelson, Campion, and Patricia Mulvaney. The survey is sent to a sampling of sisters which includes present and past council members, past regional council members, and sisters in different ministries including missions abroad.

When the CSC Survey Results of 10 questions are tabulated from the random sampling, the importance of maintaining Congregational Archives is affirmed. Other findings: Large majority believe that Archives requires a long-term commitment for which one would be prepared formally. Of the 58 who chose to respond to whether or not the Congregational Leadership should look outside the membership for competent archives administrators and make the necessary investment and time for orientation to the culture of the Congregation if necessary, 35 said yes and 23 no. Many comments from the raw data suggest a change in the way narratives are written such as: summarize in general the flow of the year but highlight key developments; skip all the trips and meetings and dates!

[May 21, 1992 summary of survey to sister archivists who belong to the Midwest Archives Conference addresses question of whether or not a lay person could be the archivist for a religious congregation. A conference session was to be "Who Will Administer Religious Archives in the Future?" Thirty responses to Sister M. Campion (Kuhn) were received. The congregations range from 75 to 8000 members in the United States. Half the respondents said, "Yes" or "Yes, but..." At the end of the summary Sister Campion states her own reflection, the "gut reaction is NO," with a page of reasons to support her opposition.]

August 3, 1992

Response from Sister M. Campion, Archivist, to Sister Mary Ellen Vaughan, First Assistant, regarding what information should be sent to Archives when a sister leaves the Congregation and when a sister makes final profession. Having answered those questions Sister Campion raises another issue: "One current problem is that we have to beg for information about new sisters, especially those from abroad-things like biographical data, dates of arrival, reception, profession, etc.-or departure."

September 1992

Sister Ann Donnelly, General Secretary, is Chair of a committee, Congregational Archives Project. A subcommittee consists of: Sisters Beverly Ann Nelson, Patricia Mulvaney, Campion (Kuhn).

Archives Study Report and Recommendations approved by the General Council. Goal is to find a General Archivist who will put in place a system for archives within 2 years upon whom her replacement could build upon. The following General Archivist would ideally be "a sister who has a keen sense of history."

October 9, 1992

Issue of Announcements: Sister M. Campion (Kuhn) has asked to be relieved of administrative responsibilities. The Congregation is looking for a General Archivist to succeed her in that capacity. Sister Campion will continue to serve in Archives in other ways.

A sister who applies should be computer literate; should have a keen sense of history and interest in working with Congregational Archives material; should be willing to acquire formal education in this field and on-the-job training in archives administration; should be willing to give five years of creative energy and dedication to the task.

October 27, 1992

Sister M. Campion (Kuhn) critiques the position description for a General Archivist in a memo to Sister Ann Donnelly, General Secretary. She advises against saying that the position requires dealing with tedium. "If the person likes the work, she would never consider it tedium; if she is an archivist, she knows what the work is like. Anyone would consider the work tedium, should not have it. The work is absorbing, often exciting and because we are few, the tasks are greatly varied and each of us can do the work of the other." She also thinks it unnecessary to specify a degree in history or a minor in library science. "We have had some great women archivists but I am the only one who has a degree in history." Library science and archives are very different work. Finally Sister Campion asks, "Whatever happened to the professional archivist who was supposed to evaluate the archives? The only people who have come to this office have been programmers and data processors who know nothing about archives."

Elsewhere Sister Campion recounts the variety of backgrounds of those sisters who have worked in archives such as Sister Bernadette Marie a secretary and Sister Rosaleen a biologist. Sister Bernice Hollenhorst who had served on library boards and in college archives is quoted as saying that an archivist need not have worked in library science. Sister Campion backs up the latter's argument by citing Sister Mercita, Saint Mary's college librarian, who trained at the National Archives for college archives and "hated archives work."

October 27, 1992

Sister Ann Donnelly, General Archivist, drafts letter to Sister Kathryn Callahan at the Pontifical Mission for Palestine in Amman, Jordan then decides to call her on telephone. Draft indicates that the deadline for applicants for General Archivist position has passed and there is only one tenuous offer. "I have moved into the shoulder-tapping stage. Your name is first on my list." Sister Ann follows up on October 30, 1992 by sending her a copy of the Archives Study to Sister Kate's Roosevelt Island, New York address.

December 23, 1992

Sister Ann Donnelly, General Secretary, acknowledges Sister Kathryn Callahan's willingness to assume position of General Archivist "with no strings attached." Sister Ann hints that Sister "Kate" might want to stay longer in the position than 2 years. In January 15, 1993 Announcements the appointment of Sister Kathryn Callahan is publicized.

May 3, 1993

Sister "Kate" Callahan succeeds Sister M. Campion (Kuhn) as General Archivist. Sister Campion has served 14 years. Sister Kathryn Callahan will serve as General Archivist until January 20, 2009. She will serve a comparable length of time and prove to be a strong force in organizing the archives and records using modern technology and making the information more accessible.

October 8, 1993

In a Memorandum to Sister Ann Donnelly, General Secretary, Sister Kathryn Callahan responds to a request for an Organization Chart for the General Archives by sending a graphic of two models designed by Sister Kate, one which she describes as a "hierarchical model" which clearly shows the official lines of authority. The attached chart looks like a traditional flow chart with the General Secretary in the top box and a direct line under her leading to the General Archivist box. Under the General Archivist are three distinct boxes showing the Assistant Archivist & Historian, the Records Manager & Genealogical Researcher, and another Historian. All three report directly above them to the General Archivist. There are no lines connecting them laterally to one another, only directly to the General Archivist.

"However, our preferred way of operating is the 'team' approach, so I have included a 'functional model.' This chart names the personnel, and outlines the general functions of the Archives. Even though each person usually takes care of specific tasks, when that person is not available and something needs to be done, whoever is available takes care of it." At the top of this graphic is a box over a circle. In the box at the top is the General Secretary. A large expansive circle appears directly under the General Secretary. Inside the circle at the top, but not in a box, is the heading General Archives which is underlined. Four personnel are listed without titles. Under the list of personnel appears a listing of General Functions:
Archives Organization and Preservation
Records Organization and Preservation
Museum Organization and Preservation

Historical Research and Writing
Genealogical Research
Congregation Census
Participation in Professional Societies
Outreach and Historical Presentations
Responses to Requests for All the Above

Mention that "space in Archives is getting tight."

By the end of 1993 computer capability is added to Archives making possible a variety of reports previously done by hand. One program instituted in November 1993 assists in tracking requests for information. Documentation is available indicating that Archives receives and responds to an average of 60 requests per month and spends an average of 45 hours per month in this activity alone. Types of requests vary widely, and time spent to research takes from a few minutes to as many as 60 hours. A need for finding aids was one recommendation from the 1991-1992 study of the archives. By the end of 1993 the computerization of finding aids is well underway.

January to February 1994

Because of the increased number of documents being generated by the Congregation, the purchase of additional shelving in Archives is necessary. New moveable shelves are installed in Rm. 101 where 3 desks, numerous file cabinets, and work table have been. The following information comes from March 27, 1991 capital expenditure request form for Budget Year 1991-92 which was initially denied until a later time:

Kardex Mechanical Assist Movable Shelving System with shelf dimensions 18" D x 33 ¾" W (5 shelves, 2 sections per range, 10 shelves per range, 100 shelves total).

Pencil diagram indicates the length is 22'6" x 8'6". There is one 30" wide aisle on the west wall (closest to hallway) and two 34" aisles running across the depository with a fixed row of shelving in between. At both ends of the depository is one fixed shelving unit. To the north are four movable rows of shelving in addition. To the south are three other movable rows of shelving. The drawing accompanies the estimated net cost quotation as $12,034.95 from Indiana Office Systems, Inc., Fort Wayne, Indiana dated April 19, 1991. The 1991 quotation indicates a Stacor mechanical assist movable shelving system. Indiana Office Systems sold the first moveable space-saving shelves and installed them in 1st floor Bertrand, Archives 8-10 years earlier.

Floor plan of depository in Room 101 Bertrand Hall is 44'4" x 23'2" [in 2015].

January 26, 1994

Memorandum from Sister Ann Donnelly, General Secretary, to Holy Cross Shared Services: "Because of a recent organization change, Sister Kathryn Callahan's responsibilities have been expanded to include congregational records in addition to general archives. Sister is in the process of developing implementations for the expanded responsibilities." All communications and requests to HCSS Information Services will be channeled through Sister Kathryn. Examples of communications and requests include: standing reports, special reports, requests for changes in the program/reports, etc. A "Request for Information from Sisters' Database" form is attached to the memorandum. The administrator of the database is located in 202 Bertrand Hall.

Pontifical Commission for the Cultural Heritage of the Church, a newly formed commission in Rome, sends a document addressed to major superiors of Institutes of Consecrated Life and Societies of Apostolic Life on the conservation of the artistic and historic heritage of the Church. Key excerpts follow:

"The Cultural Heritage of the Church should not just be a heritage to 'conserve' but rather a treasure which should be known and used to carry out the process of a new evangelization..." "This is to re-emphasize the importance of a unified effort of promotion and coordination in the area of artistic and historic collections." And most importantly, The Archive of Religious Communities is not a place where one takes refuge in the past but rather the space where one opens up to the future."

February/March 1996

Issue of Life Signs summarizes the work of the Congregational Archives and Records department and the dramatic changes over the past few years. Computerization was introduced in 1993 and has been expanding ever since. [Direct quotes below are from Sister M. Campion's draft for LS article]

"All Sisters of the Holy Cross and members of its sponsored ministries are also part of the 'Archives staff.' Without them, the various documents, photographs and artifacts might never reach the archives. This is a vital responsibility."

The most challenging new responsibility is maintaining the residence directory, preparing it for publication and constantly updating the information. Archives continues to maintain the necrology and birthday list of sisters but is now to oversee the printing and publication. The department updates and distributes the list of deceased relatives. Four separate software programs are used for these and other tasks.

The director's computer is connected with the AS400, the main computer which also stores the sisters' data base (each sister's Apostolic Service Sheet and other data). "For twenty-five years that has been kept up-to-date by Sister Alma Louise," without benefit of a computer but with her skilled background in statistics and record management.

PARADOX is the program documents all requests of Archives and time required to respond. ARCS is a software program for recording the finding aids, equivalent of a library's card catalogue. This is Sister Jeanne Finske's role. "So far Sister has completed 237 boxes [Hollinger boxes, acid-free gray archival storage boxes or files] on the general congregational level." Yet to complete are "twenty-some bays of shelves (approximately 330 feet) of archival materials for the individual houses [convents] have not yet been started."

WORD PERFECT is the program: to update changes in residence directory and to make a shelf list of the order of boxes on each shelf in the depository; records holdings of official congregational library on history of the founders and Holy Cross congregations, copies of books by Sisters of the Holy Cross; other pertinent books.

Records include some financial records and files of academic records of closed community-sponsored schools (3 colleges, 7 schools of nursing, countless academies).

June 1996-1997

Augusta Hall is remodeled into apartments for the sisters living in local community. The Troyer Group does the renovations. The first floor is put to use for offices, work rooms, gathering spaces.

August-December 1998 Holy Cross Intercongregational Heritage Committee coordinates planning for preservation of the heritage of Holy Cross which lives in the members and is preserved in the documents and artifacts of each congregation. Sister Kathryn Callahan, Director of Archives for the Congregation of the Sisters of the Holy Cross, and Sister Mary Kay Viellion, MSC send questionnaire to other Holy Cross archivists (general and provincial levels) and historians. They summarize their findings. [See File box D 5.5 Four General Councils of Holy Cross Congregations Heritage Study Committee]

Sister Aline Marie (Steuer), President
Sister M. Veronique (Wiedower), General Secretary
Sister Kathryn Callahan, Director of Congregational Archives and Records

1999-2005 Sister Kate Callahan is both Director of Congregational Archives and Records and Area II Coordinator, North America: USA Midwest

December 30, 1999 Letter from Father Hugh Cleary, CSC to Sister Aline Marie asking if the sisters are interested in a joint venture of consolidating congregational archives. He has the impression that "the Marianites are set" and probably are not interested. He mentions that the Rome archives are deteriorating. Rome has primary source documents from Father Moreau and other essential people in CSC history. "Brother William seems to think there would be funds if we hooked up with a university."

January 2000 Proposal from Rev. William D. Dorwart, CSC, Indiana Province Provincial, floats an idea to consolidate the archives of six US provinces of the Holy Cross priests and brothers and the archives of the Rome Generalate on property owned by the Congregation of Holy Cross to be located in Notre Dame, Indiana. He does not know if the Holy Cross Sisters' congregations, universities, colleges or provinces outside the US would be interested. There is also a proposal for a Holy Cross Heritage/Spirituality/Research Center where Holy Cross religious and others around the world might come to spend time in formal study and research.

March 2000 Positions listed for Sisters of the Holy Cross Archives, Saint Mary's:

- Director (flex time)
- Associate Director and Historian (part time)
- Assistant Director (full time)
- Finding Aids Project Manager (part time)
- Volunteer (8 hours per week)

Research hours: approximately 48 hours a week among 5 people on staff

Secretary (lay woman, full time, paid)

Existence of a "Common Archives Committee"

May 31, 2000

Letter from Rome indicates that the General Council of Holy Cross men have some reservations about consolidating archives. They are not opposed but roles, etc. have to be clearly defined. Lots of questions. There is no archivist in Rome. Research into cost of a common depository of congregational archives requiring 50,000 square feet-anywhere from $5 million (cost of Ave Maria Printing Plant) to $11million (cost of Northern Indiana Center for History).

Sister M. Veronique (Wiedower), General Secretary clarifies expectations of Archives regarding the memento for a deceased sister: "Some years ago Sister Campion took on the responsibility of preparing mementos for our deceased sisters. This was never intended to be an archives function, but rather a personal decision of Sister Campion." In that context the Leadership Team decides to ask the Pastoral Care Department to facilitate the process of requesting a person to write the memento for a sister's wake or funeral. Pastoral Care will not necessarily write the memento but facilitate the asking of someone to do so. Congregational Archives and Records staff will continue to collaborate by providing information, etc.

During the 2005-2006 academic year the Board of Trustees of Saint Mary's College expresses strong interest in promoting a relationship between the college and the Sisters of the Holy Cross in the context of the identity of the college. The college's Core Value of Learning will focus on Heritage. A history series of six lectures on campus, already planned, hopes to raise awareness on campus about the history of Saint Mary's College and the Sisters of the Holy Cross. The Heritage Committee of Saint Mary's College begins in August 2005 to brainstorm use of photographic historical material to be displayed in buildings throughout the campus. Sisters M. Agnes Anne (Roberts), M. Louisita (Welsh), and M. Rose Anne (Schultz) are three key members of the committee but will engage others. Sister Kathryn Callahan and the Archives staff will assist in research. [Heritage Meeting Minutes Aug. 16, 2005, Saint Mary's College]

Opening of a yearlong celebration of the 175th anniversary of the founding of the Marianites of Holy Cross in Le Mans, France. From this beginning in 1841 grew three branches of Holy Cross women: the Marianites, Sisters of Holy Cross and Sisters of the Holy Cross. The celebration includes the proclamation of 175 Years of Service, which briefly states the history of the women Holy Cross, their ministries and their mission to spread God's message of love, compassion and mercy. The leadership teams of the three congregations of Holy Cross women signed the proclamation. Copies of the proclamation were placed in prominent places at the motherhouse and on the Congregation's website. The text reads:

WHEREAS, Blessed Basile Moreau was inspired to found the religious family of Holy Cross in 1837 to continue the mission of the People of God; and

WHEREAS, 2016 marks the 175th anniversary of the founding of the Marianites of Holy Cross when, on August 4, 1841, Blessed Basile Moreau said to Leocadie Gascoin, "You are for Holy Cross"; and

WHEREAS, the Marianites in Indiana became the Sisters of the Holy Cross in 1869; and

WHEREAS, the Marianites in Canada became the Sisters of Holy Cross in 1883; and

WHEREAS, the Congregations send us among God's people in our apostolic ministries of education, health care, social work, parish ministry and community service; and

WHEREAS, today the Women of Holy Cross are united with Mary standing beneath the Cross as they work for peace and justice for all people; and

WHEREAS, because of their continued commitment to their varied ministries throughout the world and their shared charism;

BE RESOLVED, that January 20, 2016 through January 20, 2017 be a year of celebrating the good things God has done in and through us, and continues to call us to be about the work of RESSURECTION.

Presidents' Panel of six living presidents speak at Saint Mary's of their administrations as part of celebration of 175th Anniversary. Sisters are: Frances B. O'Connor; Catherine O'Brien, Aline Marie (Steur), Joy O'Grady, Joan Marie Steadman, and M. Veronique (Wiedower). Their full essays to be published in 2017 as a follow-up to the Fruits of the Tree volumes, 1988-1991, in observance of the 150th Anniversary. Archives staff assisted with research questions and helped prepare the Appendix for Visionary Women: Six Presidents Reflect 1984-2016, published in late 2017, listed as "175th Anniversary Chronicles." September 2017, Fruits of the Tree, Volume IV: Leadership, was published containing an extended essay by Sister Catherine Osimo, "The Life, Leadership & Legacy of Sister M. Olivia Marie, CSC, 1979-1984."

August 17, 2016

First meeting of Archives/Heritage Task Force convened by Sister Jeanette Fettig, Director of Special Projects, under supervisor Sister Suzanne Brennan, General Finance Councilor. As part of future planning the purpose of the task force was to help determine where to locate (re-locate) the Congregational Archives and Records, along with the Heritage Rooms in light of the buildings assessment underway. There was also an ongoing discussion of collaboration with Saint Mary's College on "sharing" archive facilities and the artifacts for display. In addition, communities of women religious are concerned and interested in having a safe place for their archives to be preserved. Sister Jeannette had communicated with as many as six communities who were "interested".

Phase I was to address the questions: What do we need for housing archives in terms of space, types of shelving, types of storage boxes/files, security, care and preservation, etc.? The task force members included from the Sisters of the Holy Cross: Sister Jeanette Fettig, Sister Catherine Osimo, Sister Brenda Cousins, Sister Karla McKinnie and Sister M. Timothea (Kingston). Saint Mary's College members were: Janet Fore, Director of Cushwa-Leighton Library, Dr. Robert Shaddy, College Archivist and eventually Judy Fean from the College Mission Division. Periodic meetings began with hammering out a Mission Statement which both groups could accept. Other agenda included measuring the linear feet of shelved materials and room dimensions of Bertrand Hall's Congregational Archives and Records. Dr. Shaddy did the same for the College Archives which were in disarray. In March 2017 Dr. Shaddy resigned after finding professionalizing the archives as a staff of one was too physically demanding. He felt his budget was not realistic and he needed more support.

Sister M. Timothea was appointed chair by Sister Suzanne Brennan after about three or four monthly meetings. On Nov. 10, 2016 Sisters Timothea and Catherine Osimo gave a status report to the General Leadership Team on the progress of the task force and presented an outline of the paradigm envisioned for archives/heritage center of the future in contrast to the current paradigm. Sister Catherine shared her opinion that she thought the College was more interested in a Heritage Center which would also function as a Welcome Center more central on campus-and less interested in building a joint archives. Paper work was completed by March 20, 2017 but there was never any official "last meeting" or closure. The group just waited to hear.

November 30, 2016

Ceremonial Presentation of the U.S. Army Civil War Campaign Medal to the Sisters of the Holy Cross. Mr. Michael Ferrill, a retired Lt. Colonel, U.S. Army, documented and advocated for the awarding of the medal. He solicited the support of Representative Jackie Walorski, 2nd Congressional District. Her aide, Mr. Ben Parsons, and Sister Catherine Osimo worked closely together. Rep. Walorski was not able to attend the ceremony held in the Lillie O'Grady Center. Eight medals were presented to representatives of institutions associated with the Sisters of the Holy Cross and health care. The full program is housed in the Congregational Archives (and two medals).

June 1, 2017

Sisters Catherine Osimo, Jeanette Fettig and M. Timothea (Kingston) attended the Thirty-Sixth Annual Holy Cross History Conference evening session only at Holy Cross College, Notre Dame, Indiana. Archives personnel set up a display using the poster boards prepared for the November 2016 Presentation of the Civil War Campaign Medal. Sister Jeanette planned to present a replica of the medal as a thank you to Margaret Hultz and Marie Davis, following their evening digital presentation, Willing Hearts, about the service of the Sisters of the Holy Cross as nurses during the American Civil War. The women were very touched by Sister Jeanette's expression of gratitude to them. Archives staff had provided research help since 2015 for the project.

June 8, 2017

Father Stephen Newton, CSC, Saint Mary's College Chaplain, arranged for a visit of an actor, Matthew Goodrich, to the Congregation Archives. Mr. Goodrich was preparing for a one-man play about Reverend Edward Sorin and wanted to get the viewpoint of the Sisters of the Holy Cross. Sisters Catherine Osimo and M. Timothea sat down with Mr. Goodrich and shared with him spontaneously their knowledge of Sorin's personality and impact on the sisters based on community history and lore. The play had not yet been completed as of the day of the interview. In Fall 2017 the play on Sorin premiered as part of Notre Dame's 175th anniversary. A sister who saw Goodrich perform said, "Even without Sorin's beard, the actor gave a convincing performance of Father Sorin." The sisters learned that the University of Notre Dame played a video of the play on the huge television screens in the new football stadium every home game in Fall 2017 during the long wait time for the game to begin.

August 24, 2017

Cindy Hamill represents the Archives staff at the Notre Dame Trail dinner at Saint Joseph Farm on the evening of August 24. Cindy took with her some artifacts for display, namely a large picture of Mother M. Angela (Gillespie) and the U.S. Army Civil War Campaign Medal the Congregation had been awarded November 30, 2016-along with an American flag and the commemorative booklet listing the names of the Sisters of the Holy Cross who had served as nurses.

August 26, 2017

Notre Dame Trail ends as a core group of 25-30 "pilgrims" on foot or bicycles ended the week-long anniversary trek from Vincennes to Notre Dame, Indiana 175 years before, replicating the journey of Father Edward Sorin and the Holy Cross priests and brothers to found Notre Dame du Lac. The pilgrims were joined in South Bend by thousands of local citizens who joined them and walked north on the Dixie Highway and turned east onto the Notre Dame campus, directly across from the main entrance of Saint Mary's College. Sisters Catherine Osimo and M. Timothea (Kingston) greeted them that Saturday morning along with Judy Fean, Mission Division Vice-President, Saint Mary's College as they passed by. The Archives staff had helped "Notre Dame Trail" coordinator Katherine Lane since May 2017 by providing artifacts for the ending celebration {see above). December 2017, the Archives received from Sister Suzanne Brennan, one of the pilgrims, a commemorative book sent to her by the Notre Dame Trail organizing group. Participants received a small commemorative traditional medal of Mary of the Immaculate Conception on one side. On the other side was struck the logo of the 175th anniversary, a log cabin with the script above it, "Notre Dame Trail 175." Sister M. Veronique (Wiedower) donated her medal to the Congregational Archives.

September 29, 2017

First meeting of the newly-constituted Joint Sub-Committee on Heritage and Archives. Sister Catherine Osimo and Cynthia Cindy Hamill (Archives Admin. Asst.) were appointed to the sub-committee, a joint effort of collaboration by the Sisters of the Holy Cross and Saint Mary's College. Sisters Mary Ann Pajakowski, Education Director of Holy Cross Ministries (Utah) and Anne Horner Hoe, Vice Head Principal of Colegio Santa Maria (Brazil) participated via phone. Sister Amy Cavender declined membership and agreed only to be a consultant if needed. The other eight members were from Saint Mary's College, except for an associate professor at the University of Notre Dame Cushwa Center for Study of American Catholicism, Kathleen Cummings. Judy Fean chaired the sub-committee. She was the Vice-President for Mission at Saint Mary's College. She announced that Phase One was complete: "Archives and Heritage Task Force has completed the inventory and needs of the archives of the Sisters of the Holy Cross and Saint Mary's College as of February 2017."

The sub-committee was to address Phase II: to continue the visioning and strategic planning needed to prepare a feasibility and business plan for a Heritage Center. Another task was to "compose a conceptual plan that includes a program plan, a research component and exhibit component that leads to a facility proposal." Strategic initiatives were to be developed eventually in the following areas: preservation and circulation of the history and stories of the Congregation and the College; research of women in early history, especially women religious and their impact on leadership; and educational opportunities for the future. Phase 111, a facility proposal, was a long way off. One year later the subcommittee had never reconvened. The minutes of smaller committees were never published.

January -April 27, 2018

Planning for a Collaborative Archives Day of Dreaming occurred from January 2018 led by Sisters Sharlet Ann Wagner, First Councilor, Sister Brenda Cousins, General Secretary and Sister Catherine Osimo, Director of Congregational Archives and Records. Friday, April 27, 2018 was set as the Day of Dreaming Saint Mary's, the motherhouse. The January 30, 2018 letter from Sister Brenda Cousins invited congregations of women religious in the Midwest to send an archivist and/or representative to a one-day meeting. The meeting's purpose was to begin exploring a collaborative archives and heritage center on the Saint Mary's College campus that would house the archives of the Sisters of the Holy Cross, the College, and other congregations of women religious.

Sister Brenda's letter stated, "We see the center as one that would house the archival collections of participating congregations and would open those collections to researchers. It would also include a heritage center that would invite the public into the remarkable history of apostolic women religious in the United States and highlight the contributions of women religious to the development of the Church and society in this country."

Fifty-three attendees participated. The day went well, beginning at 10:00 AM and ended a half-hour early at 2:30 PM due to the quality and directness of the participants. Sister Catherine Osimo typed up the input from the worksheets used for the table discussions. A week later she emailed an 11-page summary to all the participants as well as a mailing list to keep everyone informed of the next steps which had been suggested at the end of the day.

May -August 2018

An Archives Assessment Plan was necessary. Sister Catherine Osimo and Cindy Hamill, Archives administrative assistant, met on the afternoon of Thursday May 10, 2018 in Le Mans Hall at Saint Mary's College with Judith Ann Fean, Vice-President for Mission at the College. The purpose of the meeting was to review the two proposals submitted by two persons hoping to be contracted as a consultant to work up an assessment plan on the archives of the College and that of the Congregation of the Sisters of the Holy Cross. The Congregation had already paid for an online course which Cindy took earlier in the year and completed on such a task. Cindy's draft of an assessment plan for the Congregation's archives had been submitted, critiqued, and improved. The consultant, once hired, would use the Congregation's draft, much of the work having been completed. The consultant would spend far more time on the College archives which lacked order and intellectual control.

In June Sister Catherine was notified by Sister Brenda Cousins that the Sisters of the Holy Cross and Saint Mary's College had agreed to select Valerie Vanden-Bossche to be the archives consultant for the assessment plan. Sister Catherine and the Congregation's archives staff was quite happy, having met Valerie when she paid an on-site visit May 17. Valerie was finally contracted and began her temporary position as a consultant for archives the week of June 25 to August 24, 2018. The Congregation agreed to reimburse the College $4, 000 for her stipend, approximately a third of the stipend since far less time was needed to assess the Congregational Archives and Records. The completed assessment was delivered on August 24, 2018.

July 11-13, 2018 Sister Brenda Cousins, General Secretary, and Cindy Hamill, Archives Admin. Asst., attend Boston College Working Conference, "Envisioning the Future of Catholic Religious Archives." The white paper had yet to be published as of the end of 2019. YouTube videos were later available featuring conference speakers. Monte Abbott, one of the speakers, was later used as a facilitator and consultant in the development of the archive collaborative at Saint Mary's. Sister Ginger Downey, OLVN, conference organizer, also worked closely with the Sisters of the Holy Cross in forming the archive collaborative.

June 22, 2018

Friday morning at 11:00 AM on June 22, 2018, Sister Suzanne Brennan, Finance Councilor, chaired a meeting on Archives in the Leadership Team Meeting Room, second floor, Bertrand Hall. Sister Catherine Osimo, Sister M. Timothea, and Cindy Hamill attended. Others present were Rich Reth, manager of buildings and facilities who provided line drawings of the current Center Building layout. The Center Building was under serious consideration as the new site for the Congregational Archives and Records. To Sisters Catherine and Timothea's surprise, plans were underway to include the Saint Mary's College Archives in the Center Building as well. Mary Burke (College Board President), Judy Fean (Vice-President for Mission), and Ben Bowman (College Facilities) were also present. Sister Brenda Cousins was present and Lori Farkas (Finance Office).

The minutes of the meeting that day reported the purpose of the meeting was "to begin discussions regarding the potential location of a combined Archives-Heritage Center for both the Sisters of the Holy Cross and Saint Mary's College." The leadership Team of the Congregation had suggested Center Building as "a potential location for the combined Center." The minutes continued: "Our team was tasked to evaluate this option based on needs and potential space." Because of "a change in occupancy" some changes to the building would be required "for life safety at a minimum. Further study is needed to determine the full impact."

Rich Reth went through the current floor plans and measurements of each floor of the Center Building and possible structural changes which might be needed to reinforce walls and floors. Sister Timothea then shared a thorough overview of the Phase 1 findings from the Archives/Heritage Task Force which she had chaired in collaboration between the Congregation and the College members of the task force. Phase 1 included material on the mission, conceptual plan for the program, goals and benefits, a business plan, and space requirements. Sister Catherine had also served on the task force which had been dissolved.

Judy Fean reported thoughts on looking toward the future, the rich history on the campus, and how the new center would be more than a building. She did not mention that the College's new strategic plan was yet to be published which could have made more concrete how the students and the Congregation would share in telling "the story of Women of Action and Discovery." None of the sisters, except Sister Suzanne Brennan, believed the minutes' assessment, "Overall the group expressed excitement over the project and possibility of joining the two organizations to create the combined Archives and Heritage Center." The main reason for disbelief was that the College continued to fail to take seriously the hire of a College Archivist to begin bringing better order to their own archives-and to provide a reasonable budget for supplies and continued upkeep of the archives. The College was short of cash and kept talking about securing grants. Meanwhile, their library staff focused on the library, not on their archives.

- August 30, 2018 Sisters Catherine Osimo and M. Timothea attended a book signing held at the UND Bookstore for Soldiers of a Different Cloth: Notre Dame Chaplains in World War II. The author was a resident of Trenton, Michigan, John F. Wukovits, who had visited the Congregational Archives two or three times 2015-2017, to do research on Sisters M. Caecilius (Roth) and M. Olivette (Whalen), two of six "Notre Dame missionaries" caught in the Manila, Philippines area at the onset of the war. All six, along with other prisoners of the Japanese at Los Banos, were liberated in a daring raid on February 23, 1945. The sisters did not return to Saint Mary's until May 21, 1945. The author interspersed their stories throughout the book, along with that of other Holy Cross "chaplains" (priests, brothers, sisters) who were present in either the Pacific or European Theaters. The book was published by University of Notre Dame Press.
- September 11, 2018 First of several meetings with architects on change of occupancy of Center Building chaired by Sister Suzanne Brennan. Center Building was being considered as future site of a joint archives-heritage center in collaboration with the Congregational Archives and Records and Saint Mary's College Archives.
- October 5, 2018 Resignation announced of Saint Mary's College President, Janice "Jan" Cervelli. No reason given. She had been president since June 2016. Mary Burke, board president of the College, said that the College initiatives would continue. Dr. Nancy Nekvasil, the current provost set to retire, was appointed interim president.
- December 2018 Statistical report based on January through December 2018 is as follows: Grand Total of 30 Heritage Tours for 409 persons. The breakdown for 2018 was Saint Mary's Colleges asked for 14 Heritage Tours for 299 persons. Sisters of the Holy Cross had 83 guests total who attended 10 Heritage Tours. Sister Catherine did 6 Heritage Tours for Sisters of the Holy Cross orientations for 27 employees.

The convent burial ground contains graves in rows, with some bearing a second marker — these symbolize the gratitude of the United States to the Holy Cross Sisters who served as nurses in the Civil and Spanish-American Wars. The memorials were unveiled in November 1919 with bugle taps and a salute of guns, following a Pontifical Military Mass. In autumn 1939, the cemetery boundaries were enclosed in iron fencing and a new gate placed at the south entrance, bearing the title 'Our Lady of Peace Cemetery,' named by Mother M. Vincentia for its proximity to the shrine. A Calvary group, the gift of Mrs. Stella Hamilton Stapleton, was erected in summer 1940.
